

From Blue Flag to Red Alert?

The PN on Fajtata Bay and the 2025 beach closures

THE CLAIM

“The same government that boasts about the ‘quality’ of our beaches ends up having to close them within days.”

Nationalist Party (PN), 1 July 2025, as reported by MaltaToday

After Fajtata Bay closed two days after 13 Blue Flags were announced.

Dates and causes come from news reports of the Environmental Health Directorate's notices.

VERDICT

LARGELY SUPPORTED

Sequence accurate; closures were brief;
'systemic failure' is an opinion.

MAIN RESULTS

2 days

Flag to warning

Blue Flags announced Saturday 28 June 2025; Fajtata Bay warning on Monday 30 June (public-toilet overflow).

2 days

How long it lasted

Warning lifted on 2 July after repeated sampling showed the water fit for bathing.

Not sewage

Xlendi

Closed 22-30 June for field run-off after rain; the PN listed it among sewage spills.

77 of 87

Excellent in 2025

EEA classification of Malta's bathing waters: none Poor; 92% were Excellent in 2024.

Excellent

Fajtata every year

Fajtata (Triq il-Qaliet) has been rated Excellent in every season from 2015 to 2025.

FAIR TO SAY

Both sides are partly right: the closure followed the flags, but it was local and short, and Malta's bathing waters remain mostly Excellent.

WHAT WOULD SETTLE IT

☐ EHD: publish closure reports in an archive.

☐ Water Services Corporation: sewage-incident log.

☐ Government: list of closures per season.

☐ PN: statement text in full.
